

I support the FISTS petition for Rulemaking; strengthening the exam requirements for Amateur Radio and retaining the Morse Code exam elements. The health of the Amateur Radio Service depends not on "how many" Hams there are, but rather on how well prepared they are. Amateur Radio was once, and hopefully can still be, a stepping stone on the path to the FCC's Commercial Radio licenses.